Ubicación: Riviera del Sol

This brand new 6 bedroom house is going to be huge! There are new build villas for sale in plenty of locations on the Costa del Sol, but very few at such an easy short walk to the beach and the boardwalk! The roof terrace will be spectacular as there are amazing 180 degree sea views from all levels and they get better the higher you go. The basement has some light wells and will be nice and an extra bedroom and bathroom planned here with a bar area/pool table plus cinema area as it is so large. This can be made into anything a new owner would like. It is great space and cost a lot of money to build. There will be an infinity pool with those amazing sea views, outdoor kitchen and plenty of outdoor seating areas including above the new garage. Also included is a triple garage that can house 3 cars. We don't think that there is anything as good as this in Riviera especially considering its location being so close to everything yet offering a peaceful and quiet location. There are only a few plots in Riviera that allow to build 58% of the land size in buildings above ground and this is one of them. What a house!
